

OUR LEGAL ADVISORY SERVICES

Drafting and updating regulations

In a constantly changing legal environment, we offer support to the Boards of Trustees of pension funds in their task of drawing up and updating their various regulations. From simple adaptation to a complete overhaul, our legal experts offer a wide range of expertise for reviewing all regulatory provisions of pension funds.

Your challenges

- Do changes in the law or recent case law require you to adapt your regulations?
- Does your pension management comply with your regulatory provisions?
- The supervisory authority has asked you to make changes and you don't know where to start?
- How should your regulatory provisions be interpreted?

Our solutions

- On request, we can provide you with a summary of changes in legislation and/or case law that require you to adapt your regulations
- Changes can be made directly in your documents or according to your requests
- We check the changes that you have made to a regulation
- We provide you with the information necessary for a proper understanding of the changes made

The procedure we propose

1 Overall analysis of the regulations to identify the provisions to be adapted

2 Incorporation of regulatory changes

3 Answers to questions of interpretation related to your regulations

Why choose us?

- Our legal experts specialise in occupational pensions
- They work and are familiar with the regulations of many pension funds
- They meet your expectations, taking into account the specific characteristics of your institution
- They work hand in hand with the actuaries who know your institution best
- With their practical experience, they adapt regulatory changes to the way you operate and, if necessary, submit several proposals to you
